Hazard	People at risk	Action taken	Notes
Injury due to inadequate performance space (eg space too small, overhead obstructions, slippery floor, etc.)	Performer and Public	Fire Entertainers must perform outdoors in a sufficiently large space. If indoors, the Event Organiser must provide a performance space known to be safe. Fire Entertainers must perform on a non-potentially-slippery surface	Fire Entertainers must stop their performance if unsure that the space they are performing in is safe
Injury due to public interference	Performer and Public	Public must remain at a safe distance. The performance space must have barriers to prevent public encroachment on the area, or else the audience must be informed that they remain in a specific area	Fire Entertainer and Event Organiser must be constantly aware of the public in case they encroach on the performance space. Event Organiser must make sure all children present are with a responsible adult
Injury due to weather-related hazards (eg fire props slip from hands in rainy conditions)	Performer and Public	Fire Entertainer must check weather conditions are safe for Fire Entertainment before performing and stop entertainment if weather conditions become hazardous during performance

Injury due to improper costume, hair, or makeup	Performer	Fire Entertainers must wear clothing suitable for unrestricted movement. Fire Entertainers must wear non flammable costumes and make up. Fire Entertainers must keep hair away from the front of their face
Injury from prop slipping or falling	Performer and Public	Public must remain at a safe distance. Fire Entertainer must be sure no flammable materials are within the performance space
Injury due to accidental fire	Performer and Public	Public must stay at a safe distance with a clear exit in the event of fire. Event Organiser must ensure that fire extinguishers are within easy reach. Fire Entertainer must be certain the performance space is safe for Fire Performance. Fire Entertainer must thoroughly extinguish all props after use. Fire Entertainer must keep props and fuel not in use outside of the performance area
